

CAMBRIDGE COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA

The Cambridge Community Orchestra was founded in January of this year and is an exciting new venture in the arts in Cambridge. The idea for the orchestra was born at the first Mayor's Celebration of the Arts in 2003, so it seems very appropriate that the orchestra be unveiled in its debut performance at tonight's event. The Celebration of the Arts Committee is extremely pleased to see the development of this important musical initiative in Cambridge.

This orchestra is especially rich in the teaching and coaching of members. There are 5 teaching members. Kristi Coleman-Dorland plays and coaches first violin, Julia McFarlane plays and coaches second violin, Sandi Sherk plays french horn and coaches the brass section, and Andrea Mauro coaches the woodwind section. Ann Green coaches viola and cello and conducts the orchestra.
